

These are meant to be GAF classes at a GAF only match, like a regional or National Muster. GAF classes are Rifle based, not handgun as per SASS and NCOWs. Mode of handgun operation is considered irrelevant based on the use of one gun and reloading.

Much of this is based on the concepts as put forth in the "Battle Rifle" standards. These are all 2 gun (rifle and pistol) unless specifically stated. Please review the "Battle Rifle" entry.

Those wishing to use C&Bs may use more than one revolver/cylinder, but will have to cap on the clock in lieu of reloading.

All Calibers in the Milspec class will be milspec, with case by case exemptions granted. (Example: a properly outfitted Winchester 95 carbine in .30-06 may be accepted in lieu of the Milspec .30 US caliber)

All calibers will be loaded to CAS spec. Rifle calibers will be all lead, no more than 405 grains lead at no more than 1400 FPS. Handgun calibers all lead at no more than 1000 fps. Further requirements for minimum pistol loadings are under discussion.

Handgun Calibers in "Civilian" classes (Militia and Scout) will have a minimum bore diameter of .357.

For purposes here, Spencers are considered "Repeaters," not lever actions. Winchester 95s are also considered "Repeaters". "Lever actions" utilize underbarrel magazines.

1-Milspec Repeating Rifle, smokeless powder.

2-Milspec Repeating Rifle, Black Powder.

(combine if numbers warrant)

3-Milspec Single Shot, Smokeless Powder.

4-Milspec Single Shot, Black Powder.

(Combine if Numbers warrant)

5-Militia-Lever action rifle calibers, single action revolvers.

6-Scout- Lever action pistol calibers, single action revolvers.

(Combine if numbers warrant. Each can be separated by powder type, should numbers warrant)

OPTIONS

7-Staff Officer- Handgun only.

8-Infantry-Milspec rifle only.

9-Buffalo Scout- Single shot hunting rifles (no ejectors), single action revolver.

10-Forager- Single shot (ejectors allowed) double barrel (No ejectors) or lever action shotgun, single action revolver. (Bummer class!)

For battle rifle listings visit: <http://www.cascity.com/forumhall/index.php/topic,12804.0.html>

Address questions to: Dusty Tagalon dtagalon@yahoo.com

aka: Brian Bauer 319-430-3176